

Galia Textil S.A de C.V is a Mexican company that has been in business since 1974 primarily driven in providing and developing solutions for the healthcare industry. Through innovation, a qualified workforce and state of the art technology we provide high quality products with the best manufacturing processes.

With more than 45 years in the market we comply with the most rigorous quality standards such as ISO 13485, Good Manufacturing Practices (GMP) and NOM-116-STPS;2009, which makes us one of the best wound care and personal protection equipment manufacturer in North America.

Due to the current situation, we have been actively developing products that meet the required standards for personal protection. In that sense, our GTN95 respirator has been authorized by the FDA under the sanitary emergency EUA as a respirator that complies with the required criteria.

In light of the previous, we share with you all the information on our product:
